We hope that you and your child(ren) will read it thoroughly together so that you will be prepared and comfortable with the routines and expectations of camp.

Important Documents to Complete

Please make sure you have completed the registration information for each of your family members here. at the latest by 5 days prior to the camp start date. Please note: it is very important that we know if your family members/child(ren) have any dietary restrictions, allergies, or medications in advance.

Please also provide us with all of the participant's passport/ copy of passport.

Food at Camp

Please DO NOT need to bring any food with you that includes nuts- we are a nut-aware site and plastic packaging.
Our menu is locally sourced and mostly plant-based. Campers will be served chicken at some meals but not at every meal.
During these camps, campers receive 3 meals and 2 snacks each day.
We provide a refilling station, campers MUST bring their own water bottle.
Almost all dietary restrictions (i.e., gluten free, dairy free, food allergies, etc.) can be accommodated by our kitchen if we are notified at time of registration.
If you have already registered, and did not include that information, please contact us at info@greencampbali.com so we can make the necessary preparations.

Lost and Found

Camps are always busy! While moving between activity areas, accommodations and the dining hall, certain things are bound to be dropped or forgotten. Make sure to label as many items as possible with your family's/child's first and last name, so we can return items with greater ease. If an unlabeled item is found at camp, it is brought to our lost and found station. On the last day of each camp week, all of the week's lost items will be shown on the last day to be reclaimed. If your family returns home without something, you can contact us to let us know, and we will check our lost and found items.

Luggage

The ideal combination of bags is very simple but important to each camper's experience. Use one small backpack to hold all clothing, water bottle, hat, raincoat, mosquito repellent, sunscreen and whatever else you pack, as campers can have one easily accessible place to keep all belongings. A small draw-string bag/day pack is also great to have at camp. Kids will spend most of the day out and having sunscreen and water at all times is very important in the summer heat.

Green Camp Bali Accommodations

Green Camp Bali offers 4 types of accommodation options that can collectively accommodate up to 150 guests. The buildings are constructed primarily from bamboo, embracing a design concept that features open, wall-less spaces, thereby eliminating the need for air conditioning. Each room is furnished with a wall or standing fan and is equipped with mosquito nets to ensure comfort and protection. This innovative design approach harmonizes with the natural environment while providing a pleasant and sustainable lodging experience.

Please note that our concept and learning philosophy is inspired by nature, we try to make your stay comfortable, however this is not a HOTEL, it's a CAMP. Be open to be connected with nature, and expand your comfort zone!

What to Bring to Camp

It is important that campers make sure to pack all of the appropriate clothing and gear for their camp sessions. It can help to include your child as much as possible in the packing process, so they know what they have with them, and feel comfortable in their transition from home to camp.

Packing tips:

- Camp is all about the great outdoors. Wear clothes that are comfortable, durable and that can get dirty. Choose functional clothing, and only pack what can stand to be lost, damaged or muddy.
- Rainy and hot days happen, where your child may need a raincoat or a hat. Even if an item ends up not being used, it is better to pack it just in case

Getting To & From Green Camp Bali

Be sure to arrive at least 30 minutes early so you have plenty of time to locate the dropoff location, sort luggage and complete check-in. To find us, search for Green Camp Bali on the google map.
Other important things to keep in mind are:

- Families/parents are welcomed and registered at the Green Camp registration desk. Pass through the security guards and they will guide you through.
- Campers should be able to carry their own bag(s) as may need to carry them around camp.

The Environment

The Green Camp site is beautiful and wall-ess. We are immersed in nature, therefore we do not use any pest control, bugs and insects are a part of our natural environment.

Green Camp Bali Parking

There is no parking available for long hours. Please drop off and pick up your campers.

Health and Safety at Camp

During registration, you should have filled in information regarding all your camper's important health requirements (i.e., dietary, physical or medical). If anything was missed during registration, please send us an email at (info@greencampbali.com) and let us know at least two weeks prior to camp. This gives us enough time to update each camper's profile information and make the necessary adjustments. If you are not able to do so before the drop-off day, please inform staff during check-in on the first day of camp, who will then convey the information to the relevant staff members.

Please be sure to include any issues campers could experience while at camp (i.e., side effects of medication, susceptibility to heat stroke, sensitivity to mosquito bites, problems with anxiety and homesickness, special needs, etc.). The Camp Director or the Communication and camp relation officer may touch base with any campers who have special health requirements or special needs to ensure that each camper is feeling safe and adequately supported for the duration of their stay at camp.

OTHER HEALTH MATTERS & IMMUNIZATION:

Bali is not an endemic area for Malaria and Dengue Fever. However, Bali has both illnesses, although their incidence is fairly low. Please consult a medical professional about vaccinations and/or anti-malarial medications if you are concerned. Bali also has several species of venomous snakes and rabies has not yet been fully eradicated. Bites are very rare, but you might want to explore the possibility of a pre-exposure rabies vaccine with your personal medical professional. Updating your tetanus vaccination and or booster is really encouraged to prevent the risk of tetanus exposure and infection.

Keep in mind that Green Camp has a Medical Team which consists of Certified Nurse, Internationally Certified First Aiders and Wilderness First Responders. We will carry a First Aid Kit for minor medical issues and will have access to an Emergency Car to the nearest hospitals and clinics. Please bring an adequate supply of your personal OTC type medical products like Panadol (Paracetamol), antibiotics, etc.

Medication and Medical Concerns

Please ensure all medications are kept by parents/guardians. Although it is unlikely to be needed, it is recommended for you to pack extra medication in a separate container for your camper as a contingency.
For life-threatening allergies, please make sure to connect with staff during check- in on the first day of camp.
If it is deemed necessary, a camper using allergy- related medication can see the Camp Nurse once at camp to develop a plan for reliable accessibility, such as if the child has an Epi-pen or other medication for a life-threatening allergy.

If your family member regularly takes behavioral medication, we recommend that they continue to take this medication while at camp.

In case of Serious Injury or Illness

Quiet rest areas are available when campers become overtired or need extra care. On rare occasions, we may request that a camper leaves camp before the end of the session if they become ill and are no longer able to participate in camp activities, or represent a risk of spreading illness to other campers.

In the especially rare event that emergency medical treatment is required, a staff member will accompany your family to the nearest hospital.

Head Lice

Head lice are prevalent in our communities and we ask that you carefully check your child(ren)'s hair for evidence of lice and/or nits one week before camp begins to allow adequate time for treatment if necessary. Head lice are very contagious, and since campers live in close proximity with one other, we want to prevent outbreaks of lice.

Missing Home

Missing home is a very normal and natural reaction to being away from the comfort and routines of home life. It is important to talk to your child about missing home and to be positive and encouraging with the message you send them to camp with. Let your camper(s) know that missing home is normal and will pass – assure them that despite a little homesickness they will still have a great experience at camp!
Talking about it in a positive and proactive manner will help prepare them in case they experience homesickness. Once at camp, our staff are trained to handle homesickness of all levels. In rare and extreme cases, Camp Director may have the camper phone home to ease feelings of homesickness.

Visitors

Please let our staff know if you have any visitors coming to Green Camp. It is not advisable to visit during program time.

Behavior Policy

Our camp staff are highly trained in providing quality care and implementing strategies to help guide campers. This also includes correcting any unsafe or inappropriate behavior to ensure all campers are having an amazing time at camp!
In the spirit of community living, all campers are expected to be respectful and mindful of others. All behavioral expectations at camp are designed around safety and respect. Campers will be made aware of these expectations during our community meetings on the first day of camp and everyone at camp is expected to adhere to them.
Please talk to your students about the following points before they arrive at camp:

- If your child requires special needs support to be with them one on one, please consult with our Director first before enrolling your child. We do not have special needs support available on site.
- Camp is a community; as such, campers are expected to take responsibility in caring for others. This includes respecting the boundaries of other campers, respecting other people's belongings, treating others fairly, respecting differences (cultural or otherwise), and reporting (and not participating in) any incidences of dangerous or inappropriate actions.
- Campers are expected to take responsibility in caring for the environment. This includes respecting the natural life around camp (plants & animals) and making proper use of garbage and recycling facilities.
- Campers are expected to be respectful of camp equipment, accommodations, and general camp property.
- Campers are expected to take responsibility in caring for themselves. This includes wearing sunscreen, wearing weather appropriate clothing, washing hands regularly, practicing good hygiene and listening to instructions and directions from camp staff.

Camper Dismissal

Although camper dismissal is rare, it is important to note that the following behaviors or actions are not tolerated at Green Camp Bali: bullying and/or harassment, racism, use of derogatory language, use of profanity (swearing), theft, vandalism, and aggressive defiant/disorderly conduct. In all but the most extreme cases, staff will always attempt to address the behavior before resorting to the dismissal of a camper. The Camp Director reserves the right to withdraw any camper without warning who, in their opinion, compromises the physical or emotional safety of any person at camp, who is found to possess illicit substances or objects, or who is an immediate hazard to the wellbeing of themselves or others. A camper's family will be responsible for all costs associated with any dismissal due to behavioral issues and no refund of camp fees will be given.

Post Camp

Families will receive an email with a link to a google photo the following week after the camp is finished. We will also send a feedback form for groups to share with us.
